LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

NORTH CAROLINA
ALAMANCE COUNTY
Burlington

We, the Senior Class of Burlington High School of above said state, county, and city in the year nineteen hundred and forty-eight, being of as sound minds as you would expect after four years of hard mental labor, and realizing that an end must come to all worthwhile things, do hereby make and ordain this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To Mr. C. C. Linneman we will the Junior Class and hope that they will coöperate with him as we have tried so hard to do. We also leave him the memry of our melodious voices in the hall to keep him company next year in our absence.

ARTICLE II

To the Faculty we leave the pleasure that is given them each year, to mold the incoming Senior Class into a group with high standards and a loving disposition.

ARTICLE III

To the Juniors we leave our honored seats in chapel, providing that they will remain quiet and appear intelligent. In addition we leave them all the "Senior privileges" that we don't have, but which they would like to have.

ARTICLE IV

To the Sophomores and Freshmen we leave our high scholarship and good conduct grades—hoping that some day they, too, will reach the top.

ARTICLE V

To the incoming Freshmen we leave our motto—"Not on top but climbing" and our class colors—old rose and silver.

ARTICLE VI

Certain individuals do bequeath as follows:

Joan McIntyre leaves her popularity and her position as head cheer leader to Jean McPherson.
Bill Williford, his unnumbered pranks to Bill Foster. Betty Poteat and Lorene Turner, their rare drawing talent to Harvaline Lindsey.
Carolyn Fonville, her quiet, demure ways to Patsy Stadler. Victor King, his good standing among all the teachers to Don Boswell.
Jean Miller leaves her vocal talent to Joyce Layton.
Hazel Barker and Manly Campbell coöperate with the school by leaving their knowledge to Julia Alford and Joe Trollinger.
Roy Clark leaves his title of best-dressed boy on the campus to A. G. Sutton.
Louisa May, her blonde beauty to Betty Lou Huffines.
Betty Smith, her nimble dancing feet to Ann McCuiston.
Floyd Foster, his winning personality to George Fidler.
Doris Blalock, her petite figure to Boots Kimrey.
Alyce Creech, her school spirit to Sally Goldman.
Jane Slate and Robert Wall leave their unassuming ability to Ruth Ann Sullivan and Jimmy Rhodes.
Hal Waddell leaves a few of his inches to Johnny Poindexter.
Earl Massey, his love for reading to Hamett Brewer.
Nancy Cook, her well-supplied wardrobe to Fay McDade.
Virginia Beck, her vitality and friendly manner to Sue Steele.
Patsy Horne, those cute, dumb expressions to Matt Currin.
Bettie Ward, her engaging smile to Evelyn Daniels.
Nancy Huffman and Earl Wrightenberry leave their favorite window in the hall to Betty Sue Clark and Pete Barnwell.
Bill Small wills his athletic ability to Bill Keziah.
Bob Baxter, his popularity to Roney Fogleman.
Martha May leaves her continuous talking and giggling to Betty Jean Moser.
Betty Wiles, her best-all-round ways to Mary Lou Muckenfuss.
Lacala Wilkins leaves her witty way of telling jokes to Nancy Surratt.
Katherine Fesperman, her dramatic ability to Doris Ivey.
Raymond Petra, his "he-mannish" ways with the "wimmin" to Billy Eldridge.
Johnnie Mae Evans, her "peaches 'n' cream" complexion to Christine Toumaras.
Sharon Black, her happy-go-lucky attitude to Ann Horner.
Camilla Spikes, her versatility to Mary Ruth Johnston to add to her own.
Marie Knight, Carolyn Moore, and Peggy Fogleman leave their charm and sophistication to be distributed equally among the girls in the Junior Class.
Trew Gurley after careful consideration has decided that he needs all of his knowledge and will not leave it to anyone.
Virginia Coble, her love for Carolina to Ann Eisenburg.
Howard Fogleman, his ability to make "girlish hearts" flutter to Jimmy Peerson.

ARTICLE VII

In testimony whereof we do appoint Mr. C. C. Linneman as sole executor of this, our Last Will and Testament, asking him to see that the said terms are carried out faithfully.

Class of '48,
CATHERINE COBLE, Testator.

CLASS SONG

(Tune of "Auld Lang Syne")

In forty-five we started out as Freshmen young and green;
Our hopes were high, our dreams were true
Our goal was yet unseen.

Our Sophomore year of forty-six still seems but yesterday;
We gave to it our very best
In study, work and play.

In forty-seven, our Junior year, we were a class so strong;
We had such fun at B. H. S.
Our stay would not be long.

Now Seniors of today are we, and we must bid adieu
We hate to leave our dear old High
Our old friends and the new.

In memory we'll hold these years, of all our lives the best;
So now we leave reluctantly
the school of B. H. S.

NANCY HUFFMAN

CLASS POEM

In my heart there is rejoicing
For the memory lingers on
Of my happy days in high school
And the many friends I've known.

I remember how I've worried,
I've grumbled and complained.
But underneath it all is still
The happiness I've gained.

I realize that there were times
When discouraged, I have said:
"I'll not go on and see this through!"
But I kept on instead.

Now, as a senior I recall
Each year with tender thought,
And I begin to wonder just how much
Each year to me has brought.

As a freshman so very green
I bewildered, gazed and stared;
As a sophomore now quite bold
I ventured and I dared.

When I became a jolly junior
I did have quite a fling;
And now . . . as a senior
I cherish each small thing.

I know that each day
Taught me some little deed
That I'll use in the future,
When for it there's need.

And I'll strive with a will
I'll make each day my best;
But I'll hold ever dear to me
Memories of B. H. S.

CLASS PROPHECY

Have you ever been in court? No? Well, I'll tell you about my experience just like I told Judge Wall.

"Judge Wall," I says, "I couldn't help what I did to that patient of mine. I don't care what you say, Judge, I couldn't help it. Why, all at once, on Junember 33, 1953, she started having terrible pains. I just couldn't imagine what was happening. That is until Doctor Manley Campbell finally examined her. I guess the reason was because of the morning before.

"What happened to me? Well, that morning, Junember 32 it was, I got up early so I would be sure to be the very first one at that sale at Waddell's Dept. Store. Where is Waddell's? Why, your Honor, you know right across from It Pays To Be Ignorant Library. Gosh, that reminds me. I've got to pay my book fine. Ida Mae Norris has sent me three cards already. Good book though—'That Algebra's Got Me' by Pat Decker. Oh well, I'll drop by tomorrow.

"Why, your excellency, I'm not off the subject. It's like I said. Waddell's is across from the It Pays To Be Ignorant Library and who should beat me to that sale but Bobbie Batchelor. Finally, the manager, Raymond Petrea, opened the door. Mercy me, what a bevy of people; there was Margaret Allen, Roberta Grigg, Ann Blackwell, Muriel Hines, Earlene Brown, Dorothy Huff, Virginia Carter, Betty Leach, Ruth Wheeler, Katherine Hoyle, Margaret Moser and Ernestine Mansfield and last but not least Eleanor Martens.

"Well, I was finally in the door and making very little progress. I took the path of least resistance and paused a while to take a full advantage of the colorful mob before me. On my right was a diaper sale and in the midst of it all stood Jo Craft Stafford, Annie Dare Foster, Jo McIntyre Barrett, and Faye Kivett Bowen with their bevy of 'Jacks 'n Jill's 'n Joes 'n Bills.' Then on my left just beyond the dry goods table upon which were perched: Alyce Creech, Martha May, Haze-Bryan, Hilda Temple, Pat Horne, Jessie Mae Terry, Virginia Latta, and Betty Rae Rudder carrying on a long-winded conversation, there was an 'Evening in Petersburg' perfume sale. Peggie Woodburn, Doris Blalock, Peggy Fogleman, Willie Faye Christopher, Jean Hamilton, Betty Jones, and Billie Stuckey were stacking up the stuff.

"Just beyond was the men's department where I decided I would purchase my Sweetie-Pie a surprise. Realizing a red pair of dotted swiss suspenders would be just the thing, I stepped aside to regard Howard Fogleman, Bill Gross, Harry James, Carlton Mangum, Gordon Farmer, and Jimmy Whitsell busily attending to the job of clerk. As I timidly stepped from the store to the street, I ran slam-bam into Bob Baxter and Chester Baker who are still caddying for Nancy Cook and Lacala Wilkins at the Golf Links.

"Hoping at least to make it to the next stoplight, I was however stopped by, yes, Judge, yes, it certainly was Bill Small, Gerald Pickler, Bob Stutts, Bobby Curl, Bud Pickard, Ed Ballard, Hal Johnson, Bill Barger, Carson Leach, Vernon Maness, David Wilson, and Earl Wrightenberry taking their morning exercise with a mild run from Carolina to Burlington and bringing up the rear were Nancy Huffman, Bootsy Stafford, Camilla Spikes, and Deloris Willis cheering them on!

"I was really tired, Judge, so I decided the best thing to do was to go into Tutterow's Drug Store to get a 'pause that refreshes.' Millard Denson, Don McPherson, Deward Baldwin, Wade Dodson, Fred Harvey, John Frank Nicholson, and Jerry Splawn were 'jerks'—soda jerks, that is!! In the booth beside me were Clara Yarborough, Emma Lee Nichols, Carnell Weadon, Annie Laura Talley, Cornelia McDaniels, Eleanor Peele, Fetner Parrish, and Helen Steel.

"Just as I had really begun to compose myself, there was a horrible noise. I ran to the street where James Cooper, Johnnie Mac Evans, George Houston, Marie Hawkins, John Campbell, Jean Boswell, Whitley Arwood, Pauline McKinney, Louise Yarbrough and James Trollinger were standing in a huddle, and who do you think was lying on the pavement, your honor, yes sir, Bill Williford. Seems Roy Clark had ignored a stoplight and you know Roy. 'Keep-at-Em' Clark had ignored Bill, too! As I stepped aside to let the ambulance attendants through, I noticed that they were Victor King and Bobby Powell and Colcen Crenshaw and Annie Lemons, who came along for the ride.

"Fully fatigued I decided to take in a movie, so I went to see 'The Show Ain't No Good But The Star is Terrific' starring Katherine Fesperman and Leo Bolick. Taking up tickets was Eleanor Ball, and the ushers were W. A. Neese, Harold King, William DeWecse, Donald Brooks, and Hurley Hinshaw. It was really a boring picture but I saw loads of my old pals: Catherine Coble and Earl Massey, Betty Poteat, Daphne Durham, and Jeanne Cash, Faye Anderson, Peggy Harris, and Betty Harden, and Jane Slate and Murphy Alexander.

"The newsreel was fairly interesting though. Seems that Louisa May has been elected Miss America with Marie Knight, Virginia Coble, Peggy Wicker, and Carolyn Moore as attendants. Birdeye Black, Floyd Foster, Jimmy Moore, Jack Troutman, Thomas Kinney, Norman Burke and Al Cheek were judges. Interesting work!

"Betty Wiles, Jean Miller, Sharon Black, and Martha Burch are appearing in the opera 'Carwomen' with Blake Anthony leading the orchestra, which is composed of Rufus Apple on the tuba, and the violin section consisting of Harris Andrews, Richard Evans, Herman Coley, Jack Gwyn, Carroll Neese, and J. P. King. The brass section includes Hubert Lee, Don Paul, Lloyd Lewis, Gene Thomas, Elwood Lewey, Othal Phillips, and Thomas Nash.

"It was pouring in torrents when I left the movies, and as I hailed a taxi, I saw Trew Gurley and Allen Morrison prodding along in their best Sunday suits.

"Since I was to go on duty at three o'clock, I went straight to Painfeel Memorial Hospital where I met Bettie Ward, Nancy Martin, Gladys Copeland, Lorene Turner, Mary Jean Teer, Iris Stanfield, Carolyn Fonville, and Catherine Carden scurrying around like 'Angels of Mercy.'

"Gosh, Judge Wall, can't we step this thing up? Look at that jury. They look bored to death, and Virginia Beck is waiting to go shopping with me. Why, I know those people in the jury: Marion Andrews, Roy Dameron, Gladys Coble, Edith Holt, Gilbert Fuquay, Banks Gross, Mary Kelley, Glenn Bolick, Harold Cheek, Hazel Barker, Lindsay Blanchard, and Beverly Hargrove. And look at those spectators out there. They have to go home, too. Why, there's Lois Boles, Betty Jo Hiatt, Nellie Lowe, Nancy Miles, Becky Neely, Violet Rhew, Ernestine Walkins, Marcelle Toney, Hilda Stanfield, Gertrude Roach, Betty Jean Neese, Eula Jean Walker, and Jeanette Nicholson.

"What's that you say, Judge? What did I do? Why all I did was give Norma Rimmer salts instead of tooth power."

BETTY SMITH, Prophet

CLASS HISTORY

Dear "Little DOE-WAH-JACK,"

I must have fallen asleep as I took pen and ink in hand, for I dreamed about seniors and graduation. It all seems so foolish now, but in my dream it was so real. Am I still asleep? No, I am awake to reality. We are Seniors and graduation is only a few weeks away. Four years are so dreadfully short!

It seems only last week that on September 18, 1944, two hundred and seventy bewildered boys and girls entered Burlington High School. With Robert Wall as president, Jesse Rush as his assistant and Nancy Cook, secretary, we soon learned our way around as freshman. This was the beginning of our efforts towards the climax of high school: a diploma.

Time slipped quickly by, and soon the dreaded week of exams was over and we were on a much awaited vacation.

The following September of 1945 we assumed our role as "mighty sophomores." Confidentially, "Little DOE-WAH-JACK," you've no idea how thrilled we were to be freshmen no longer. This year under the guidance of Principal James A. Gerow and our teachers, we had a year of work for there was no Move-up Day and no DOE-WAH-JACK.

A few months of rest, and suddenly, "Little DOE-WAH-JACK," we were juniors. This year Betty Wiles was our "selectee" to guide us to "Seniorville." Helping her were Bob Baxter, Virginia Beck and Murphy Alexander. Our new principal was C. C. Linnemann.

In the spring eleven of our classmates were inducted into the National Honor Society. The Tri-Hi-Y, the Hi-Y and the Monogram Club also took in new members from our class. The president and vice-president of the Student Council for the next year, Robert Wall and Howard Fogleman, were chosen from our class. This made us feel that at last we were a part of the school.

This year we acquired the dream of every junior: a class ring. The year really took wings, "Little DOE-WAH-JACK," for before any of us realized how fast time was flying, we were planning, under the able guidance of Miss Lela Aycock, the Junior-Senior Prom. The climax of the year came on Move-up Day when we moved into the coveted "senior" seats in chapel. In June we began vacation before our final session in high school.

On September 8, 1947, about one hundred and eighty-seven of us returned to our beloved school to begin our final phase of work. Our enthusiasm was as keen as ever now that we were seniors, and we hoped that we should acquire that certain quality known as "dignity."

The directors of our Senior activities were Bob Baxter, Virginia Beck, Peggie Woodburn and Floyd Foster. We had a good football team under the coaching of Jim Mallory. We defeated our strongest rival, Greensboro. Bootsy Stafford was editor of the Barker and Camilla Spikes was editor of the DOE-WAH-JACK.

And here we are, "Little DOE-WAH-JACK," Seniors! And in only a few weeks we shall be given our Caps and Gowns. Truly Graduation is drawing near, for the Prom, Move-up Day and Class Day are almost "just memories." Yes, four years are dreadfully short!

Goodbye, "Little DOE-WAH-JACK," we seniors love you.

Jean - Darling,
I have had a lot of fun having you this year and I hope you have the chance to be with me of your close friends. I don't want you to have so much trouble with your friends. You will in due time learn to love the gentle life. I know you will be glad to know that I am very pleased to have you in Burlington. I will be glad to see you in the fall. I will be glad to see you in the fall. I will be glad to see you in the fall.

Roy Dameron (on the porch in his car): How about a little ride, Cutie?
Jean Miller: Are you going north?
Roy Dameron: Yes, I am.
Jean Miller: Give my regards to the Eskimos.

Here in Our City of

BURLINGTON

Let us all work together to make our Community:

- A good place in which to live;
- A place where honest work brings an honest living;
- A place where initiative and progressive ideas bring forth returns;
- A place where the City Government serves all its people;
- A place where we worship and live Our Religious principles;
- A place where we can work and play and enjoy the goodness of living;
- A place where our boys and girls will want to establish their homes;
- A place worthy of being called "OUR HOME."

Trio Judged Winner In Amateur Program At High School Today

Hillbilly music and Spring infatuation were evident in Burlington High School this morning when 12 students participated in the Junior Class amateur show.

A trio of George Fidler, Garland Tickle and Victor Seamon took first prize of $5 and overwhelming applause with their singing of four songs: "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair," "Now Is The Hour," "You Are My Sunshine," and "That Old Mountain Dew."

Second prize of $3.50 went to Raymond Petrea for his piano rendition of "St. Louis Blues," and Betsy Patterson won third prize of $2.50, singing "Dickie Bird Song."

Pete Barnwell, recently elected president of the student body, served as master of ceremonies. Acting as a radio announcer of station WKD (We Kill 'em Dead), he started the first round of applause from the capacity audience with several jokes before introducing the performers.

Carole Nicholson and Patsy Melton played a piano duet, "Love" and Pat Gilmore sang "Temptation," followed by Betty Rudd singing "If I Loved You."

Earl Massey sang "Desert Song," and Barbara Brown sang "Two Loves Have I." "Now is the Hour" was both sung and whistled by Bill Rudd.

Judges for the show were Mrs. Charles Hopkins, librarian of May Memorial Library; Clay Hemric, local attorney; and Nelson Warner of the Times-News.

Grade Parents Of B. H. S. Entertain Seniors At Teen-Age Club Last Night

The Grade parents of Burlington High School entertained members of the Senior class last night at the Teen-Age Club after the commencement exercises held at Elon College.

The club was decorated in the class colors of pink and silver. Rambling roses, entwined in a lattice gate, decorated the bandstand and two tall baskets holding lavender larkspur, pink gladioli and white roses appointed each end.

The refreshment table was covered by a pink cloth and centered by a lovely arrangement of double larkspur and gladioli. Mrs. Ben May and Mrs. Gordon Farmer presided at a frozen punch bowl filled with red roses, made and donated by the Ice Delivery Company. Cookies, donated by the Biscuit Company, were also served during the evening.

C. C. Linnemann, principal of the high school, served as master of ceremonies during the evening, and presented draw prizes, compliments of local merchants, to the lucky winners.

Grade parents present were Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Splawn, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon J. Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ed King, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McIntyre, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Fesperman, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gurley, and Mrs. Ben May.

Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening.

“Weavers of Speech”

To you, who each day
Take on anew your tasks
Along the lines that speech will go
Through city streets or far out
Upon some mountainside
Where you have blazed a trail
And kept it clear;
To you there comes from all
Who use the wires
A tribute for a job well done.

For these are not just still
And idle strands
That stretch across a country
Vast and wide
But bearers
Of life's friendly words
And messages of high import
To people everywhere.

Not spectacular, your usual day,
Nor in the headlines
Except they be of fire,
Or storm, or flood.
Then a grateful nation
Knows the full measure
Of your skill and worth
And the fine spirit of service
Which puts truth and purpose
In this honored creed—
“The message must go through.”

READ
THIS . . . before you decide on your profession

DURING the next six years, half a million teaching positions will be available in the United States. Thousands of men and women are needed to replace inadequately prepared teachers now in the schools, to fill the vacancies caused by normal turnover, and to meet the needs of the five million additional children born during wartime. There is a need for elementary and high school teachers, college instructors, principals, superintendents, and educational specialists of every kind.

Now you know the law of supply and demand. When your kind of training and ability are needed, offers for it are made more and more attractive.

That is what's happening in the teaching profession. Many communities are taking steps to improve their local school conditions—some are granting salary increases—some states are establishing definite minimum salaries for teachers.

The ability to teach is a special gift, a valued talent, and no profession provides greater personal satisfaction than teaching. If you are a "born teacher"—make your decision now to join this honored profession. For "Our Teachers Mold Our Nation's Future," and America's future has need of you.
